MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy for Field Activities, OSA

SUBJECT: Commander's Report - August 1965 25X1

It is suggested that the following comments be sent concerning subject report: 25X1

Reference Section IV, MATERIEL:

EGT DECAY: The EGT decay/failure to obtain problem appears to be associated only with certain aircraftengine combinations; the instance reported with Article 383 is typical of the seven cases reported to date. A special burner pressure sense manifold has been built-up at to be utilized the next time an EGT decay situation occurs. Purpose behind this test manifold is to provide the engine fuel control with an average source of pressure (PS4 Boss) in place of that provided by the currently utilized source just forward of number four burner can. Utilization of the PS4 Boss source should support or refute the tunnel-effect theory. This theory holds that duct disturbances may be reflected in fuel control performance due to the fact that burner pressure is presently sensed at only one point and that use of an average pressure (PS4 Boss) would tend to cancel out such effects.

ACTUALITY MODS AT

Beadquarters is taking action to define the work necessary to provide a blast area rather than fence behind the hangar and to provide lighting for the work area.

SPECIAL EQUIPMENT SECTION - TRACKER: The test tracker installation will be returned to week of 20 September for further testing.
